I thought this assignment was pretty hard. I had a lot of troubles trying to get the constraint layout working and then after about 3 hours switched back to relative. I also had a lot of trouble sending data between activities and getting my review and rating to properly update after I submitted my review.

I couldn't get the Shared preferences working. This is mostly because of the way I initialize and store my data. I initiated my data in a helper class and it is hard to get my preferences over to that helper class and without the helper class I would of had to re-write a lot of my code.

My biggest problem was properly sharing all of my data between activities.

I expect to get full points on everything except for the Data Persistency.
